Phantom Of The Sewers

14-Year-Old Boy Poses Problem

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A 14-year-old boy who periodically roamed city sewers during the past two years posed a perplexing problem for Juvenile Court officials today.

"There's simply no place for a kid like this to go," said probation officer Frank McCroskey. "This boy has roamed the sewers for as much as a month at a time."

The youngster, nicknamed the "Phantom of the Sewers" by police, has been in and out of Juvenile Court since 1960. After his last brush with authorities last week, he was sent for a psychiatric check.

McCroskey said the youth has no place to go once he is released.

"Nobody wants this boy," he said.

Consequently, the officer said, the boy turned to sewers for refuge.

In his subterranean hideout, explained Claude Pearson, chief probation officer, "the boy felt psychologically as well as physically secure."

Described as "mentally disturbed," the unidentified boy lives with an elderly grandmother. Officers said his parents, now divorced, apparently were unable to care for him.

McCroskey said the boy provided for his meager existence by petty thefts.

"His operation was small but frequent — stealing a transistor radio, then selling it for a quarter," McCroskey said.

"Police couldn't catch him. The sewers are mapped in his head. He would stash the day's catch in a sewer, then eat, sleep, play games down there. The neighborhood was in an uproar. He had watching posts to spot squad cars. Other kids would tip him off and bring him food."

"At times the police were able to ambush him when he came out," McCroskey said. "Then, about every agency in the city would get the kid. Eventually he would get back to us. What can we do — send him to reform school? He's mentally sick — not bad."

Holiday Deaths May Reach 630

By The Associated Press
Millions of Americans headed for the highways today, the last weekend holiday of summer, with an appeal from President Johnson and public officials to "drive responsibly."

Deaths in traffic accidents in the early hours of the 78-hour holiday period appeared running below normal. The count, which started at 6 p.m. local time Friday, showed 78 persons had been killed in traffic mishaps: 1 boating; 5 drownings for a 84 total at 11 a.m. today.

But the National Safety Council estimated from 530 to 630 persons may lose their lives at the end of the extended holiday at midnight Monday. The record death toll for a Labor Day holiday period is 563, set last year.

A survey by The Associated Press for a 78-hour non-holiday weekend, from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 19 to midnight Monday, Aug. 22, showed 505 deaths on the highway.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said at least 200 lives might be saved during the weekend if all drivers refrain from immoderate drinking.

Traffic fatalities up to Aug. 1 were 8 per cent higher than last year, the council said. The toll of 5,130 in July was a record for any single month.

The council also reported that record death tolls were set this year during three major holiday periods of 78 hours. They were 344 New Years; 542 Memorial Day; and 578 Independence Day. The record toll for any holiday period is 720, set in the three-day Christmas weekend of 1965.

DeGaulle Visits New Caledonia

NOUMEA, New Caledonia (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle flew into this flowered Pacific island today after a tumultuous three-day state visit to Cambodia where he demanded that all foreign troops get out of Viet Nam.

In a major speech in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Thursday, De Gaulle made it clear he meant American troops, but the wording of a joint communique today, signed also by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state of Cambodia, was broad enough to include Soviet and Red Chinese technicians in North Viet Nam.

There was no mention made of North Vietnamese troops because, informed sources accompanying De Gaulle said, the French president did not consider this the same sort of intervention as the American.

South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do, in Saigon asked: "Why has the general not launched a solemn appeal to North Viet Nam and to China to stop the aggression? This would put an end to the war."

Washington officials said the United States cannot accept a timetable for pulling troops out of Viet Nam unless Hanoi sets one too, but that Communist government has rejected De Gaulle's plan. It says the United States must withdraw first.

The French president was about half way through his 19-day, 27,000-mile journey around the world. New Caledonia is 750 miles east of Australia.

He will go on to Tahiti and, if weather conditions are right, witness a French atomic test in that area.

De Gaulle then flies on to Guadaloupe, a French island in the Caribbean, where Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., says he hopes President Johnson will meet him to discuss the Vietnamese war.

Builder License Rules Approved

LANSING (AP) — Michigan will ease into enforcement of its new residential contractors licensing program, the state said today in the wake of inquiries from concerned legislators.

Licensing began Thursday, but Lenton G. Sculthorp, director of the State Department of Licensing and Regulation, said the department would not invoke penalties against late applicants attempting to comply with the law.

Lawmakers led by Sen. Charles Zoller, R-Benton Harbor, said contractors had been confused by an absence of printed department rules concerning licensing.

The law also was worded so that licenses could not be issued until Sept. 1, yet applicants had to comply by that same date.

Sculthorp acknowledged there was confusion, and said there also was "much false information circulated among the industry."

He said application forms gave contractors enough information to properly apply. The full set of licensing board rules was approved Thursday.

Sculthorp was called into the Senate Business Committee Thursday and defended the work of the eight-man licensing board after Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, accused it of foot-dragging on implementing the law.

Effective date of the law had already been delayed two months by the Legislature.

The new program includes a post $2,000 or $5,000 bonds as guarantees against improper work.

Seek Sanctions On Traverse City School District

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Stalemate in a salary dispute, the Traverse City Education Association has requested the Michigan Education Association to impose sanctions against the Traverse City Public School District. If sanctions were imposed, the M-EA would ask all members to refuse to teach in the district. School administrators say there is no more money to be offered in new contracts. Teachers argue they are the bottom of the pay scale for teachers in districts of equivalent size.

Hauling Water For York, Pa.: $18,000 A Day

YORK, Pa. (AP) — It's costing $18,000 a day to truck water into this southern Pennsylvania city where a prolonged drought has virtually dried up its main source of supply.

"This is the worst," said Mayor John L. Snyder Friday, after declaring an emergency and asking for help from both the federal and state governments.

Snyder said a flood by Codorus Creek that caused millions in damage 33 years ago was not as bad.

"It was in August of 1933 when we had four days of heavy rains. The creek overflowed cutting the city in half. Damage was in the millions," Snyder said.

"But this is the worst. You can cope with a flood. You can evade the water by going to higher ground. What do you do when you're on dry ground?"

The York Water Co. said the Codorus Reservoir was dwindling at the rate of eight million gallons per day. Officials estimated that the current supply would last about a month.

In Harrisburg, the state capital, the Public Utility Commission said the company has been spending $18,000 a day hauling water from the Susquehanna River, 16 miles to the west. As the situation grew more critical, however, that amount was expected to reach $25,000 a day.

The 80,000 residents of this 225-year-old city are going through the long, hot summer under rigid restrictions on water use. No washing of cars, no sprinkling of lawns, no water served in restaurants, unless requested.

Cicero Faces Tense Sunday

CICERO, Ill. (AP) — Officials of this tense all-white suburb of Chicago have received assurance from Gov. Otto Kerner that 2,000 National Guardsmen will be on hand Sunday when civil rights marchers stage a protest march.

Kerner, acting Friday on a request from Cicero and Cook County officials, activated the guardsmen, who are to be joined by local, county and state police.

Robert Lucas, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality and a leader of the march, said he expects 400 to 600 persons to take part.

Fifteen years ago, three days of rioting resulted when a Negro family tried to move into an apartment in Cicero.

William H. Morris, head of the Illinois state police, said that 375 state police will guard the border between Chicago and Cicero where Cicero police line the parade route.

Police from neighboring Berwyn will take over the ordinary duties of the 90-man Cicero police.

Christy Berkos, Cicero town attorney, said he issued a permit for the march because he knew the marchers would proceed without it and he wanted to avoid violence.

LABOR DAY

LABOR DAY — Climax of the long weekend farewell to summer — is so wholeheartedly observed in spirit that a good bit of head-scratching is often caused when fun-bound citizens from all walks of life are asked, "How come Labor Day?" Germ of the idea is credited to Peter J. McGuire, a leader in the Knights of Labor, in 1882. He suggested that the first Monday in September — midpoint between July 4 and Thanksgiving — be made Labor's own holiday. Sentiment for the observance snowballed. Oregon, in 1887, became the first state to recognize the date as a holiday for labor. In 1894, Congress passed a bill making Labor Day a national holiday.

Johnson Stumps In Detroit And Battle Creek Labor Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's quest for Democratic votes in the November elections takes him today to a West Virginia damsite and a celebrating Pennsylvania town.

Johnson was bound for Summersville, W. Va., to dedicate the biggest earth-and-rock dam east of the Mississippi and for Dallastown, Pa., which is celebrating its 100th birthday.

The only uncertain factor was the weather. Forecasters Friday night were predicting a zero ceiling at the Charleston, W. Va., airport at about the time of Johnson's planned landing there. From Charleston he was scheduled to board a helicopter for the 44-mile hop to Summersville.

After the dedication ceremonies the President's itinerary called for a flight to the Harrisburg-York airport in Pennsylvania, followed by a 31-mile motorcade to Dallastown.

Dallastown men did not grow their beards for the presidential appearance but for the day's big centennial celebration.

In Dallastown, as in many other points along his weekend speechmaking routes in recent weeks, a first-term Democrat is facing strong opposition from a Republican challenger. The incumbent is Rep. N. Neiman Craley Jr.

The one-day foray into West Virginia and Pennsylvania — Johnson is due back at the White House before dark — is the prelude to a heavier schedule Monday, when Johnson will travel to Detroit and Battle Creek, Mich., and Dayton and Lancaster, Ohio.

The Democratic party will pick up the tab for the President's expenses on Labor Day.

Today's trip, with its presidential appearances at civic functions, was labeled "nonpolitical" by the White House.

However, Johnson has been managing to find nonpolitical occasions to visit congressional districts where freshmen Democrats face potential troubles —

Williams Will Debate Griffin

DETROIT (AP) — Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams agreed Friday to a debate with U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., before the Economic Club of Detroit on Oct. 17. Williams said he would agree only if Republican Gov. George Romney would debate Democratic gubernatorial candidate Zolton Ferency.

Romney agreed to debate Ferency this week. The forum for two proposed debates will be at the Economic Club of Detroit.

Williams said he is willing to meet Griffin for public discussion of the issues "on two additional occasions as schedules permit and the opportunity arises."

The former governor added he would agree to a television debate with Griffin if Romney affords the same opportunity to Ferency.

Williams, convalescing from a kidney operation at his suburban Grosse Pointe home, said, on advice of his physician, he would be forced to cancel a scheduled Sept. 9 joint appearance with Griffin before the Michigan Municipal League.

Bridge Walk Expected To Bust Record

ST. IGNACE (AP) — A record crowd of up to 15,000 hikers is expected here Monday for the annual Labor Day hike across the Mackinac Bridge, a bridge authority spokesman said Friday. He said the two east lanes of the bridge would be closed to traffic to accommodate the walkers. The two other lanes will remain open to traffic.

Artificial Heart Patient Ready To Leave Hospital

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The only known survivor of an artificial heart pump operation is expected to be discharged from Methodist Hospital Monday or Tuesday, her own heart healed and well again.

Esperanza del Valle Vasquez, 27, who doctors fitted with a plastic pumping device for 10 days Aug. 8, was reported ready to return to her Mexico City home and begin convalescence.

Four other patients who underwent operations like Mrs. Vasquez' died after surgery. Two succumbed to lung complications here and two more died in Brooklyn's Maimonides Hospital after receiving heart pumps.

Only minimal details of Mrs. Vasquez' case have been released by the hospital, but officials promised a full report, including pictures and diagrams, after her discharge.

Ground Action Light; Raiders Hit Cong Camp

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. military headquarters said today two more American planes were shot down over North Viet Nam during raids on the main supply and infiltration routes to the south.

Rainstorms again curtailed U.S. air blows against the north and an elusive enemy in the south reduced allied ground action once more to small skirmishes.

High-altitude B52 bombers, flying above the foul weather, dropped tons of explosives at noon today on a Viet Cong base camp and training area close to the Cambodian border. The bombers hit at much-battered War Zone C 70 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Ninh Province.

The losses of the latest two planes raised to 337 the number of American warplanes to go down in action over North Viet Nam.

Pilots Rescued

One plane was a Navy A1 Skyraider from the aircraft carrier Intrepid which was shot down 40 miles northwest of Dong Hoi Friday. The other was an Air Force F105 Thunderchief which went down 40 miles north of the same coastal city.

The pilots of both planes were rescued.

In air raids over North Viet Nam Friday, American pilots flew 86 missions, all concentrated in the southern panhandle as thunderstorms prevented strikes in the Hanoi-Haiphong area and the Red River Valley.

Air Force planes attacked main supply Route 101 and a U.S. spokesman said they cut the road in 11 places within a 20-mile section.

In other air action Friday three flights of B52 jet bombers pounded suspected enemy trenches, bunkers and gunholes 35 miles southeast of Saigon in support of the 1st Brigade of the U.S. 173rd Airborne.

Capture Medical Station

On the ground, South Vietnamese reported killing 87 of the enemy, when more than 1,000 government troops fought a quick, savage battle in a mangrove swamp in the Mekong Delta about 120 miles southwest of Saigon.

The troops reported seizing a large supply of ammunition and weapons and destroying enemy communications material, other equipment and a small medical station. Government casualties were unreported.

South Viet Nam's chief of state said Friday that a large-scale allied landing in North Viet Nam may well be necessary to eliminate the Communist threat to his country and halt infiltration from the north.

Li. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chairman of the 20-man military and civilian directory of the central government and chief of state, said a landing would be a strategic blocking move rather than an invasion. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has also mentioned a land attack against the north.

Election Activity

On the political scene, Thieu announced he had no plans to run for president next year.

The Viet Cong's clandestine liberation radio has stepped up its drive to keep South Vietnamese from voting in the Sept. 11 national election — promising "merciless punishment" to anyone who takes part.

Backing up their threats in the populous Saigon-Gia Dinh capital district, the Viet Cong killed 12 persons and wounded 18 others Thursday in attacks on a civilian bus and a village election office.

The South Vietnamese government countered the moves with increased patrols and a decree providing life imprisonment for anyone convicted of sabotaging the voting.

Campaign meetings have been sparsely attended, although the election is only eight days away. Part of the reason is that those elected will be restricted to writing a new constitution and will have no legislative functions.

Progress Noted On City Projects

One of the major development projects in progress in Escanaba is the proposed extension of water and sewer lines into the city's industrial park at the north city limits, with the aid of federal funds.

The city's application to the office of the Economic Development Administration on the project has "been processed by the finance, legal and engineering departments and has been approved by all," reports City Manager George Harvey.

"The general location of the proposed project has been determined to serve the industry and areas that need the service now and in the future," the manager has informed the E. D. A.

Part of the cost of the project is related to the cost of the acquisition of easements and fees for rights of ways, plus highway and railroad crossings.

The project lies in part within the Escanaba & Lake Superior right of way, with portions crossing state-owned and private lands, will traverse U. S. 2-41 and M 35, and cross the Chicago & North Western property at the extreme north end.

The City of Escanaba is also preparing an application to the Economic Development Administration for a grant for the city's airport improvement project, the city manager reported.

"This application is now ready for transmittal to the Detroit office. If approved we could realize 10 to 15 per cent additional federal funds on the airport improvement project," Harvey said.

Another project which is hoped to receive fund sharing is the construction of a building to house public rest rooms and a harbor master's quarters at the yacht basin. The Michigan Waterways Commission is expected to pay one-half the cost estimated at $20,000.

The plans for the building were to be in the hands of the Commission by the first of this month, and when they are returned here they will go to the City Council and bids will be asked for construction.

The project was delayed earlier this summer when the bids went considerably above the cost estimates.

On the side of industrial encouragement, the city manager reported that he is asking the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion for forms on which applications for industrial revenue bonding may be submitted.

The Supreme Court's favorable action on the Industrial Development Bond Act was "good news to the entire state and particularly to our community because of our extensive work in industrial development," Harvey said.

Home On Leave: Local Engineer Aids Survey Of Mekong Basin

Roy T. Sipinen of Iron Mountain, who as water resources planning engineer, has been helping to survey a giant development project in the Mekong River Basin of Southeast Asia, has returned to the United States on home leave.

Sipinen is a member of a 40-man U.S. Bureau of Reclamation survey team, which is headquartered in Bangkok, Thailand, and financed by the Agency for International Development.

"If the survey for the Mekong River Basin indicates the feasibility of the proposed project," says Sipinen, "Thailand, Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam would greatly benefit from the resultant giant power, irrigation and navigation development."

To Visit Father

The son of John Sipinen, Gladstone Rte. 1, Sipinen is a 1950 engineering graduate of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

He has been a civil and hydraulic engineer for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation in Denver, Colo., Hungry Horse, Mont., Salt Lake City, Utah, Klamath Falls, Ore., Santa Barbara and Sacramento, Calif., and Juneau, Alaska.

Before he went to Thailand, he served with AID on feasibility studies of a Blue Nile River Basin project in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

His wife, Vivian, is the daughter of Mrs. Signe Denton of Ft. Belvoir, Va. They have two children, Alan 7, and Thomas 1.

The Sipiens are scheduled to return to Thailand in September for another two-year tour of duty. They are expected to visit his father within the next few days.

The Mekong River is considered a major factor in the economic development of Southeast Asia, to which President Johnson has committed massive U.S. assistance. The largest river in the area and one of the largest in the world, the Mekong drains

Training Will Equip 80 With New Job Skills

WASHINGTON—Three Manpower Development Training programs will be conducted at the Area Training Center in Marquette to equip 80 Upper Peninsula residents with new skills, Congressman Raymond F. Cleveland announces.

Thirty unemployed workers will be trained as computer-peripheral equipment operators in a 40-week course at the Northern Michigan University Center.

In a 50-week course, 32 men will be trained as auto mechanics.

Eighteen workers will learn electrical appliance service in a 50-week course.

Cost of the three projects will be $438,634; with the federal government contributing $423,725. Allowances to participants while they undergo training will constitute $279,622 of the total cost.

In the past two fiscal years, 1,106 northern Michigan workers have learned new skills in 31 MDTA programs offered in Marquette, Hancock, Sault Ste. Marie, Alpena, Ironwood, and Escanaba.

Gwinn Teachers Like Contract

By BILL FINLAN

GWINN—The Gwinn Board of Education and Gwinn Education Association agreed this week on a contract after more than eight months of negotiation. Gwinn is one of the last schools in Marquette County to settle contract agreements for teachers' salaries and other benefits.

The major features of the contract call for a starting salary of $5,500 for a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree, and extending to a top teacher salary of $9,300 for a teacher with a master's degree plus 30 hours of study; fully paid health, accident, hospitalization and life insurance for the teacher and his or her family; and a supplemental contract for this year which pays $400 to the new teacher in the system, and an indexed amount over $400 to teachers with experience in the system.

The negotiators agreed to include allowance of a maximum of five years full credit on the salary schedule for teachers with prior experience, plus half step for anything over five years; $400 above the base pay for teachers qualified and teaching speech correction, mentally retarded, deaf, hard of hearing, sight saving, emotionally disturbed, or physically handicapped. The salary schedule is based on the school calendar year of 184 days.

A terminal leave payment of 50 per cent of the cumulative sick leave at the current substitute rate will be paid to the teacher upon retirement or leaving employment provided the teachers have been employed by the district for five or more years. The current plan calls for an allowance of ten days sick leave each year, and the unused portion is cumulative and unlimited.

No pre-school orientation period will be required of teachers with previous experience in the Gwinn Schools, but new teachers will attend a day of orientation.

The school board has agreed to strive to keep the pupil-teacher ratio near 25-1 in regular high school and elementary classes, and to set varying ratios in accordance to classes in typing, industrial arts, drafting, vocational shops, home-making, music, art and physical education.

This year's school budget shows $1,036,732 is allocated for teachers' salaries, an increase of $222,000 over last year. The average salary for this year's teacher will be $7,260.

George McCormick, chairman of the teacher's negotiations team, said "We feel we have one of the best master contracts in the Upper Peninsula, and one of the better ones in the state of Michigan. The teachers showed their approval by voting 100 per cent in favor of the agreement on Aug. 30."

"Well over 200 hours were spent by both parties in this first year of negotiations in an effort to set a good foundation for future negotiations. Now we have that foundation."

"The teachers appreciate the effort by the board of education to put teaching closer to a professional standard. We feel that the Gwinn teachers, the board of education and the administration will now have a much closer relationship in recognizing and solving school and local problems."

Salvation Army Special Service

There will be a special Missionary Service at the Escanaba Salvation Army, 112 N. 15th St., Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Colonel and Mrs. Henry Rostett of Hollywood, Fla., will be in charge of the service. Colonel Rostett has traveled extensively in Europe, Scandinavian countries, Russia and many Central American countries.

A retired Salvation Army Officer, the Colonel spends his time helping missionaries in Jamaica and Haiti, and other islands in the Caribbean area. Before his retirement he was the Divisional Commander of the Scandinavian Division of the Salvation Army. Everyone is welcome.

Clevenger Reports Progress

Economic Program Gains

"We are finding that more and more units of government have decided to get more and more involved in the Economic Development Program," Congressman Raymond Clevenger (D-Sault Ste. Marie) told a breakfast gathering of Democrats at Marco's today in a stop on his campaign tour for election to a second term.

Clevenger is citing his efforts for economic aid to the 11th District as a chief reason for his re-election.

The busy campaigner went from Escanaba to St. Ignace to attend the Father Marquette Pageant in Marquette Park and then was to drive to Norway for an appearance at the Dickinson County Fair and spend tonight at Iron Mountain.

Sunday he will appear at Labor Day celebrations in Ontonagon and Negaunee and return to St. Ignace at night to be on hand for the Labor Day walk across the Mackinac Bridge. Then he will fly to Detroit for the Labor Day program honoring the late Senator Pat McNamara, which will be addressed by President Johnson.

To Join President

This is the program to which the AFL-CIO wouldn't invite U. S. Senator Robert Griffin who then appealed to the President for an invitation to honor the office of U. S. senator. President Johnson thereupon designated the until-then "non-political" program at Detroit as "political" and the Democrats arranged to pay for LBJ's flight to Detroit.

Clevenger will accompany the President on campaign stops after the Detroit appearance.

The Economic Development Act, he said here in an interview, covers lots of public works and projects for various types of community facilities "that are essential if we're going to have the kind of environment that industry needs—the physical environment."

"When you've got a district spread out like the 11th District you've got to have good communications. Even though I've been back from Washington over 46 times in 20 months, this isn't enough; we need more. One of the keys to more effective congressional representation is communications."

Campaign Spending

"Tom Jernstad, who has just resigned as Marquette County sheriff to join my staff, will help with this process. He'll travel through the district and help with communications."

"I don't intend to abdicate this work in the field. At this point my time can be better spent in the field, but I don't intend to do this always; that would be wasteful and wanton."

"We were woefully outspent in the primary. My opponent in his unopposed primary, I'm told spent $18,540, and I'm not sure that includes the amount the Michigan Republican Committee spent, because they had a man up here for a while."

"I was opposed for renomination (by Frank Hook of Ironwood) and I think we spent maybe $3,000 or $4,000 and most of that was for travel."

Partisan Tenure

"It is obvious that the Republicans are going to live up to their efforts to throw me out. GOP incumbents have held this seat since 1938 in part and since 1946 without break until my election in 1964, so they held it at least 20 years."

Esther Murray, 91, Dies This Morning

Miss Esther Murray, 635 Oden Ave., died at St. Francis Hospital this morning.

She was born in Ishpeming, Sept. 17, 1874. Surviving is one sister, Mrs. George Harvey Sr., Escanaba.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Sunday.

Funeral services will be at St. Patrick's Church Monday morning. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Labor Day Picnic Set For Monday At Pioneer Trail

The annual Labor Day outing and program at Pioneer Trail Park, sponsored by the Delta County Trades and Labor Council, will have a speaking program starting at 1 p.m. Monday, it is announced by Arnold Burkum.

There will be games and other events and the celebration is for everyone, said Mel Carlson, president of the Trades and Labor Council and general chairman of the observance.

Many prizes, refreshments, and band music, and a softball game for girls are planned. In the event of rain the program will be postponed to the following Sunday.

Gunfire Stops Refugee At Wall

BERLIN (AP)—An escaping refugee was stopped today only a few yards short of the Communist wall by the gunfire of East German border guards, police said.

The police said the man, about 25, halted near a tangle of barbed wire when four bursts were fired from a nearby bunker. He was led away with his hands held over his head.

Crossroads On Labor

By DON OAKLEY

Heavy thinking about the economy is probably the last thing most Americans will want to indulge in as they enjoy the Labor Day holiday.

Strikes, price increases, the rising cost of food, taxes, national debt—all these are worries we would like to forget, if only for one day.

But the name of the day is, after all, Labor Day, and though it was originally set aside to honor the blue-collar workingman, it is upon the labor of all of us that the strength and health of the economy is based, whether we work in shop or office or on the land.

The problems and needs of "labor" are the problems and needs of the whole nation.

We are not, fortunately, going through a season of widespread labor-management discord. One recent strike, however, grounded 60 per cent of the nation's commercial airplanes for a month. Another, almost forgotten, continues to stall the presses of three newspapers in New York, who have been attempting to merge into one, the World Journal Tribune, for months.

The inability to settle these disputes in reasonable time through the customary machinery of arbitration raises fundamental questions about that machinery itself.

Is free bargaining between employee and employer no longer a satisfactory procedure? Should the government take a more active role? Do we need something like a Court of Labor-Management Relations whose decisions in each dispute would be binding on all parties?

There are some who say the government should keep out of strikes; that, left alone, the airlines and machinists would long before have reached a settlement.

Yet no settlement today can be made in isolation from the rest of the economy. No government can govern effectively or responsibly if it has no control over wages and prices, even if it is only in the form of persuasive mediation and the setting up of guidelines.

Others argue that the right of labor to organize and to strike, as hard-won and necessary as that right was 30 years ago, has grown out of all proportion to the right of management to run its business efficiently. This feeling is especially acute when a walkout affects the rights of the general public.

Today, says business writer Henry Hazlitt, "a single labor union, until its demands are met, can halt the country's railroads, tie up its shipping, shut down its steel mills, silence the newspapers of a great city, walk out on patients suffering or dying in hospitals, ground 60 per cent of the nation's airlines, and prevent others from taking the jobs that its own members have refused to perform. The public must stand by helpless."

This is a serious indictment against the union movement. It is also a telling charge against our way of doing things, for in many cases workers have felt they had no other choice but to shut down mills or walk out of hospitals.

President and Congress also stand in the defendant's box. It is fine when the government speeds up a lagging economy through deficit spending, as it has demonstrated it can do quite handsomely.

But when that speed becomes too great, when prices soar and buying power shrinks, can worker or employer, factory owner or factory hand, be blamed for trying to keep up with the pace when the federal government lacks the will to put the brakes on its own high living?

Answers are urgently needed to these questions. Some of the answers must be forthcoming before another year passes and before we pause again to observe another Labor Day.

Kennedys To Stump

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Inescapably, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and, to a lesser extent, his brother, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy of Massachusetts, will provide the major show in the 1966 election campaigns soon to get under way.

Inescapably, too, this is bound to complicate further the already harassed political life of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The two Kennedys will, of course, spend considerable time campaigning for others in their own home states. But the biggest part of their energies will be spread across the country.

Among the key states, Bobby is already committed to helping Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown in California. Sen. Paul Douglas in Illinois, U. S. Democratic Senate nominee G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams in Michigan. He has bids from Ohio and Pennsylvania.

GOP Gov. John Reed of Maine will have to weather a Bobby Kennedy invasion in behalf of the Democratic nominee, Kenneth Curtis. Whoever wins Wisconsin's September governorship primary has the senator's promise of on-the-scene support. There will be many other such forays, coast to coast.

Ted Kennedy's mid-August appearance in Illinois for Adlai Stevenson III, nominee for state treasurer, is just a mild starter for him. In September he will swing through several western states. His particular commitment right now is to Montana's Sen. Lee Metcalf, who has a tough race against Gov. Tim Babcock.

Indications are that Ted, like Bobby, will lend his political spine much of the time. But magnetism to Democrats in one before LBJ ever had so California, Illinois, Michigan magnetic a crowd competitor and other populous states. His in his own party as Robert F. list should be at least as long as Kennedy's.

If it were Europe in the old days, Johnson long since and enthusiastic crowds would have sent Kennedy to almost everywhere swarm to the "Kennedy show." Lands. Diligent inquiry suggests and especially that part of it that is the one place he is unstarving Bobby Kennedy. He is likely to go.

Job Training Demands Unmet

Little High School Sinks

In order to provide the proper training, schools will have to offer guidance services so that the needs of the individual students, their strengths and weaknesses, can be determined, says Prof. Ralph Wenrich, director of vocational education at the University of Michigan.

"Placement services are essential to such a program," says Wenrich.

"Continuing education can be and should be incorporated in this system to retrain and upgrade skills of youth and adults," he adds.

U.P. Problem
The guidance problem is one which has tripped some Upper Peninsula high schools in their efforts for re-accreditation by the University of Michigan's Bureau of School Services.

Wenrich offers guidelines for a practical vocational educational program. "The first thing necessary is a commitment on the part of the public. The people have to be willing to finance it," he says. "Instruction needs to be provided in fields and occupations for which there is a demand."

"Our schools will have to be made larger. The small administrative school unit cannot possibly conduct a satisfactory program. Even the largest of schools in an area cannot do an adequate job alone."

He stresses that qualified teachers must be recruited. "They must be competent in their field. The whole faculty of a high school must understand that two out of three of our youth do not go to college, and that their training must be different. Functional types of courses are necessary," he states.

Steps Described
Wenrich advises schools that want to obtain a satisfactory vocational-technical education program: "The first thing you have to do is to determine your needs. After the facts have been gathered, then you start to determine the kinds of programs to offer, where they should be taught, location of training centers if these are required, the cost of the programs and how they should be financed."

"As many persons as possible should be involved in this process," he says. "Present the findings to the public and how well you do this will to a great extent determine the outcome."

Wenrich concludes, "We in education can come up with ideas and suggestions but in the final analysis the schools are the only ones that can do anything about it."

The Michigan law on school reorganization set up enrollment of 2,000 students in a kindergarten - through - high school district as desirable, but some U.P. school district offering a K-12 program have only 400 or fewer students.

The 20th century has the bloodiest record of all the centuries of history. Since the year 1900, the nations of the world have been party to many thousands of treaties signed mostly by same men with high hopes.

Dear Ann Lander: My husband died when our son was two years old. Mike is now 17 and I am very proud of him. His scholastic record is excellent and he has earned recognition in sports.

Mike has always enjoyed swimming and he used to go to the pool often—until this year. When I noticed he was making up excuses not to go with his friends I became suspicious. Yesterday I learned the reason and now I need your advice.

Mike was mowing the lawn when one of his friends walked by and yelled, "Hi, Ape. Tried out for any Tarzan pictures lately?"

Mike's face turned crimson. He did not answer. I asked Mike what it was all about. He replied, "I have hair growing all over my back shoulder and the kids call me 'Ape'."

Do you recommend shaving, hair removal creams or perhaps even electrolysis in a case such as this? Please tell me what is best for my son. — R.R.R.

Dear R.R.R.: Shaving, hair removal creams or electrolysis is no answer when a man's back and shoulders are involved.

Mike needs to talk to someone who can get through to him and make him accept his hairness without shame. This will not be easy since his friends have already made him extremely self-conscious. Ask your family doctor for guidance.

Dear Ann Lander: My children are 8, 7 and 5. Their father has a hot temper and when they misbehave he really wallops them.

The kids are afraid of their daddy. When they do something wrong they beg me not to tell him. I usually say, "O.K. if you promise not to do it again."

Yesterday the two older ones were playing with matches. I caught them twice. They promised not to do it again if I didn't tell daddy. Am I overprotecting my children. — UNDECIDED

Dear Undecided: You are UNDER-protecting your children and I hope you see this before somebody catches on fire. Don't make deals with these kids. Work on your husband to be less harsh with them. You'll have better children and a better marriage.

Dear Ann Lander: for years our mother complained about aches and pains although extensive examinations failed to show anything organically wrong. She also lied constantly. We would cover up for her because we believed she was a mental case.

Last month a psychiatrist told us that mother's mind is perfectly O.K. and that she has kept us all under her thumb by pretending to be ill.

My brother and sister and I are furious. We have decided to tell our friends the truth. Father continues to lie and says since our mother we should lie, too.

I say... encouraging us to do wrong and, mother or no mother, we do not owe her THAT. What do you say? — HONORABLE BETTY

Dear Betty: It's hard to believe a psychiatrist told you your mother's mind is "perfectly O.K." If he did, he must have played hooky the day his class studied hypochondria.

Any person who continually complains about aches and pains when the physicians can find no organic illness is ill in the head and this can be more crippling than an organic disease.

Your lack of compassion is revolting.

Do you feel ill at ease... out or it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Lander's booklet "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Lander will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Susan M. Snyder Bride OF Frederick Linder Jr.

Marriage vows were exchanged today, Sept. 3 at 12 o'clock noon during a ceremony at St. Patrick's Church between Susan M. Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Snyder of Escanaba and Frederick H. Linder Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Linder Sr. of DePere, Wis.

Father Donald Shiroda was celebrant of the nuptial high mass and also read the marriage service.

White and gold mums arranged in tall gold urns graced the altars for the service. The pews were marked with white ribbons and palm foliage. Placed at the entrance of the church were two tall standards of foliage and white gladiolus.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was preceded to the altar by Miss Constance Bringe of Milwaukee and Miss Andrea Quisling of Madison, both sorority sisters of the bride, Miss Barbara Linder of DePere, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Sue Boyce and Miss Janet DeGrand of Escanaba.

John McNulty of Chicago served as the bestman and groomsmen were Charles Torinus, Appleton, Richard Christenson of Stoughton, Wis., David Linder of Eau Claire and Robert Snyder, a brother of the bride.

White Organza

The bride chose a floor length gown of white organza enhanced with embroidered clusters of seed pearls in a floral pattern with the skirt sweeping to the back forming a chapel train. Her headpiece of matching seed pearls and Stephanotis held her bouffant veil of illusion and she carried a cluster of white orchids and Stephanotis.

The bridesmaids were attired in floor length gowns of gold moire with short sleeves and empire waists, forming a light chapel train in the back. Their flowers were ratan arrangements of cascading roses in shades of yellow, orange and persimmon and clusters of three shades of roses formed their headpieces.

Mrs. Snyder, mother of the bride, selected a tan costume for her daughter's wedding with brown accessories and corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Linder wore deep blue with matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. The grandmothers, Mrs. Walter Wickert of Escanaba and Mrs. John Linder Sr. were presented lavender orchid corsages.

Reception
The wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the House of Ludington and flowers in shades of gold, mint green and white were used in the decorations. Topiary trees of mint green pompons were arranged on the tables along with centerpieces of orange and gold grapes with mint green mums. Flowers also formed the background for the receiving line. Martha Johnson and Linda Wylie circulated the guest book.

Mrs. Frederick H. Linder Jr. (Lee's Studio)

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents for the wedding party and out of town guests at the Della Supper Club on Friday night.

When Mr. Linder and his bride leave this afternoon for their honeymoon trip she will wear a blue knit suit trimmed with red and she will pin an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Holy Name High School, attended St. Catherine's College in St. Paul, Minn. and is presently studying at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. She is member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority.

Mr. Linder is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame and is doing graduate work at the University of Wisconsin. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Linder Sr. and other members of the Linder family from Eau Claire, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers and family of Youngstown, Ohio, James L. Adler of Chicago and other relatives and friends from Wisconsin and Illinois.

Ensign 4-H Members Win State Honors

Cindy and Dan Safford, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Safford of Ensign, received state recognition at the recent 4-H State Show held at MSU Campus, East Lansing.

Cindy was selected for further consideration for state honors in the all achievement project area and Dan was a state winner in demonstration. Dan's demonstration, "Embedding Insects", won him a trip to the Traverse City area, Sept. 30-Oct. 4. There he will join other state winners for an air tour of the Traverse Bay region and will experience some unique educational and cultural opportunities.

Both Cindy and Dan are members of the Ensigners 4-H Club. Cindy will be a freshman at Northern University, Marquette, and Dan will enter his freshman year at Rapid River High School.

Delta County placed third in the state club model business meeting demonstrations at East Lansing. Team members, Tom Safford, Dave Novak, Cindy Safford, Bob Gibbons, Clint Safford, Sue Sundberg, of Ensign, and Gary Johnson of Gladstone, were awarded bronze medals. Ensign leaders assisting the team were Mrs. Stanley Dominick and Mrs. Mary LaCrosse.

Mark Nelson of Ensign representing the U. P. in the state senior rifle competition, placed second.

Mrs. Glenn I. Olsen (Lee's Studio)

Judith A. Burroughs, Wed To Glenn I. Olsen

Miss Judith Ann Burroughs of 1212 Lake Shore Drive, Gladstone became the bride of Glenn Irving Olsen of Escanaba during a double ring ceremony performed today, Sept. 3 at All Saints Church in Gladstone.

Hearing the solemn exchange of vows during the nuptial mass at 11 o'clock this morning was Mr. Matt LaViolette. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Burroughs of Gladstone and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Irving G. Olsen of 1401 14th Ave. S., Escanaba.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of ivory peau de soie fashioned with an Empire bodice, scoop neckline and a gentle sheath skirt. French embroidered alencon lace formed the baby Renaissance sleeves and lace also trimmed the mantle train which was attached to the shoulders.

A wedding ring headpiece held her full bubble shoulder length veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of Ivory butterfly roses and ivy foliage. The bride's gown and veil were designed and created by Marilyn Sue Kobask, a friend of the bride.

Maid of honor was Kathleen Maher of Chicago and bridesmaids were Marilyn Sue Kobask of Escanaba, Nancy Guenette of Rockford, Ill., and Patricia Jean Doherty of Wauwatosa, all friends of the bride.

The maid of honor was attired in a floor length gown styled with an Empire bodice of gold Venice lace and a crepe skirt of soft yellow. The gown was fashioned with a scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves.

Green, Ivory

The bridesmaid's gowns were designed identical to the maid of honor's gown only in contrasting shades of Moss green and Ivory. Matching satin bow headpieces held their puff veils of silk illusion and they carried bouquets of feather tipped fugii mums in colors to match their dresses.

Bestman for his brother was Gary Olsen and groomsmen were Charles Sienke of Iron Mountain, Terry Platt, Iron Mountain and John Burroughs of Gladstone, brother of the bride. Seating the guests were Gregory Olsen of Escanaba, brother of the bridegroom and James Burroughs of Gladstone.

Mrs. Burroughs is wearing for her daughter's wedding and reception, a jacket faille sheath dress of romance pink with a pale pink chiffon blouse and matching accessories. She was presented a corsage of bonbon pink roses. Mrs. Olsen is wearing a light blue crepe sheath with a ribboned lace overblouse, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow miniature roses.

Mrs. H. J. Norton, grandmother of the bride, was presented a pink rose corsage and Mrs. Ruth Olsen, grandmother of the bridegroom, was presented a corsage of yellow roses.

Reception

The wedding reception is being held this afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. at the House of Ludington. The wedding breakfast was served following the ceremony also at the House of Ludington.

When the newweds leave later this afternoon for a honeymoon trip to New York City, the bride will wear a mint green three piece suit accented with a pastel silk tie and matching accessories. She will carry a nosegay of yellow roses.

Upon their return the couple will reside at 521 Arch St., Marquette.

The bride is a graduate of Holy Name High School and St. Norbert College in West DePere, Wis. Mr. Olsen is a graduate of Iron Mountain High School and attended Bethel College in St. Paul, Minn. He is presently attending Northern Michigan University where he is affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity.

Out of town guests attended from Iron Mountain, Marquette, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Albion, Mich., Oakland, Mo., Fort Bragg, N. C., Rockford, Ill., Milwaukee, Wauwatosa, Janesville and Green Bay.

Miriam Eckstein Is Bride Tonight

The First Baptist Church will be the setting tonight at 7 p.m. uniting in marriage, Miriam Louise Eckstein and Lawrence Alan Weaver.

Rev. E. H. Eckstein will officiate for his daughter's double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Eckstein of Greensburg, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Weaver, Gulliver.

Mrs. Beverly Moroco will be soloist for the service, accompanied by Carole Bradley on the organ.

The bride chose an empire-style gown of white satin brocade, embroidered with white and silver. It featured a chapel length train. Her elbow length veil was of silk illusion. She will carry a cascade of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Ruth Buzzo of Griffith, Ind., was matron of honor and bridesmaid was Mrs. Mary Glenn Weaver of Indianapolis, Ind.

They were attired in identical empire waist gowns of royal blue fashioned with brocade satin tops and sky blue moss crepe bottoms, with floor length trains. They carried bouquets of white carnations with tinted tips.

Flower girl was Judy Penner, attired in a white empire floor length dress.

Bruce Eckstein was ring bearer.

The wedding reception will be held at Mueller Township Hall.

Home In Marquette

For attending the wedding and reception, Mrs. Eckstein wore a light blue satin brocade sheath with jacket and white accessories. Mrs. Weaver wore a beige knit suit with brown accessories. Both wore red rose corsages.

After a wedding trip the couple will reside at 425 Spring St., Apt. 4, Marquette.

The bride is a graduate of Muskegon Business college and is presently employed at Northern Michigan University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Manistique High School and is attending Northern Michigan University.

Darlene Kay Hardy Is Bride At Cooks

In a ceremony performed today at St. Mary Magdalene Church in Cooks, Darlene Kay Hardy of Green Bay became the bride of Dennis Charles Marcelle of Luxemburg, Wis.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 11 o'clock was Rev. Joseph Charlebois.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hardy, Cooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Marcelle, Luxemburg, Wis.

Attendants

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor gown of nylon sheer over taffeta, trimmed in chianti lace. The fitted bodice, with long sleeves, accented a sabrina neckline embroidered in iridescent sequins. The dress featured a full skirt, with lace panels, front and back, forming a chapel train.

Her 3-tier bouffant veil of pure silk illusion caught a queen's crown of lace, trimmed with seed pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade bouquet of white mums and red roses.

Bette Jean Haindl of Cooks was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Carol Jean Hardy and Sandra Marcelle.

They were attired in floor length gowns of pink lace and crepe sheath skirts. The scoop necklines with elbow length sleeves with ruffled cuffs featured satin high rise bands at the waist lines. Watteau trains flowed from the flat backs. They wore short bouffant veils with braided headpieces of roses and petals. Their bouquets were pink fugi mums trimmed with greens and ribbons.

Michelle Hardy was the flower girl. Her dress was similar to the bride's. She carried a white straw basket of pink and white pompons with streamers. Steven Troullier was ring bearer.

Home In Green Bay

Serving as best man was Joseph Hardy Jr. of Green Bay, Wis. Groomsmen were James Marcelle and John Pieshek. Ushers were Clifford Troullier and Willard Edwards. For her daughter's wedding

Mrs. Dennis C. Marcelle

Mrs. Hardy chose a aqua blue sheath trimmed with a bow. She wore brown accessories. Mrs. Marcelle wore a 3-piece rose colored suit. Both wore white orchid corsages.

A reception will be held from 5 to 8 at the Cooks town hall. Following a wedding trip to the Black Hills and Badlands, the couple will reside at 117 1/2 S. Van Buren St., Green Bay.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Cooks High School and attended the Accredited School of Beauty Culture in Green Bay. She is presently employed by the Crown Beauty Salon of Green Bay. The bridegroom is a 1963 graduate of Luxemburg High School and is employed by Brillion Rent - A - Truck.

Portage Marsh Is Duck Soup For Mallards, Study Reveals

Many mallards and lots of black ducks showed up in live-trapping operations at Portage Bay marsh just south of Escanaba, indicating "good nesting success in 1966," reports Joseph E. Vogt, Escanaba District game biologist for the Conservation Department.

The live-trapping was begun last year and was continued and expanded this summer, starting on Aug. 1.

Vogt said the traps—each one six feet long and four feet wide—were baited with shelled corn. The traps were open for about 17 days and a total of a ton of corn was used to lure the ducks into the traps.

The birds are taken from the traps and banded and released.

"Banding helps give more answers necessary for effective management of waterfowl," Vogt said.

"You might say that banding is a sampling procedure allowing us to measure certain characteristics of the duck population. For example: 1—Distribution of the hunting kill; 2—Rate of the hunting kill; and 3 —Basis for estimates on mortality by species."

A total of more than 1,300 ducks were handled and 712 were banded, Vogt reported. The remainder were "repeaters"—ducks that had been previously banded and then returned.

The number banded compares to 293 last year, when the operation was conducted for only about six or seven days. This year it was continued until the number of "repeaters" indicated the population had been pretty well sampled.

Most Are Mallards
"Banding is helpful in establishing regulations and allows us to evaluate the effectiveness of the exceptions put on hunters," Vogt explained.

Of the 712 ducks banded this year, 322 were mallards. There were also a large number of black ducks—191 and next most frequent. Blue wing teal numbered 177, wood duck 18, pintail 2, green wing teal 1—and 1 hybrid, a cross between a black duck and pintail.

Vogt expressed appreciation to three volunteers who assisted him in the operation: Peter

Johnson, Roy Olson and Bob Halvorsen of Escanaba.

"Almost all of the ducks we trapped were locally produced, indicating local nesting success," the game biologist added. The state-wide picture is good also, with water conditions and nesting success both good.

The banding operation is over for this year but Vogt expects that it will be continued in 1967.

Find No Die-Off

As part of his survey of local conditions, Vogt flew over most of the Delta County shoreline Wednesday on a botulism study. "I saw many ducks, teal and black mallards—I would say well over 1,500 and there was no signs of any large die-off," he reported. "Perhaps it may be early for this but we are keeping our fingers crossed."

Last year there was a successful hunt locally, probably the best success anywhere in the state, Vogt said. There were about 50 hunters participating in the local hunt.

What's the outlook for the 1966 season?
"That's hard to say, since the weather is such an important factor. But for the special teal season Sept. 12-20, and barring any drastic change in the weather, there should be a good number of teal on hand," Vogt said.

The regular duck season will open on Oct. 10, and all factors being equal the hunting success should measure up to last year's "best in the state" status.

Baby Bottle Aid To Navy Fliers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — No Navy flier should be without his baby bottle in combat, experts say.

It's part of pilots' survival gear. Lt. Cmdr. Robert Brown, commander of the North Island Naval Air Station Survival School, said the 8-ounce plastic baby bottle is filled with water.

When a pilot is forced down, he would take a few swigs from the bottle to help calm his nerves.

"The water helps wash away the stimulus of fear and helps the pilot think rationally," Brown said.

Rest Won't Hurt Campaign: Soapy

DETROIT (AP) — G. Mennen Williams has announced that a two-to-three week rest ordered by his doctors will not hurt his campaign for U.S. Senator.

"I'm ahead now: I'm going to stay ahead and I'm going to finish ahead," he told a news conference at his Grosse Pointe Farms home.

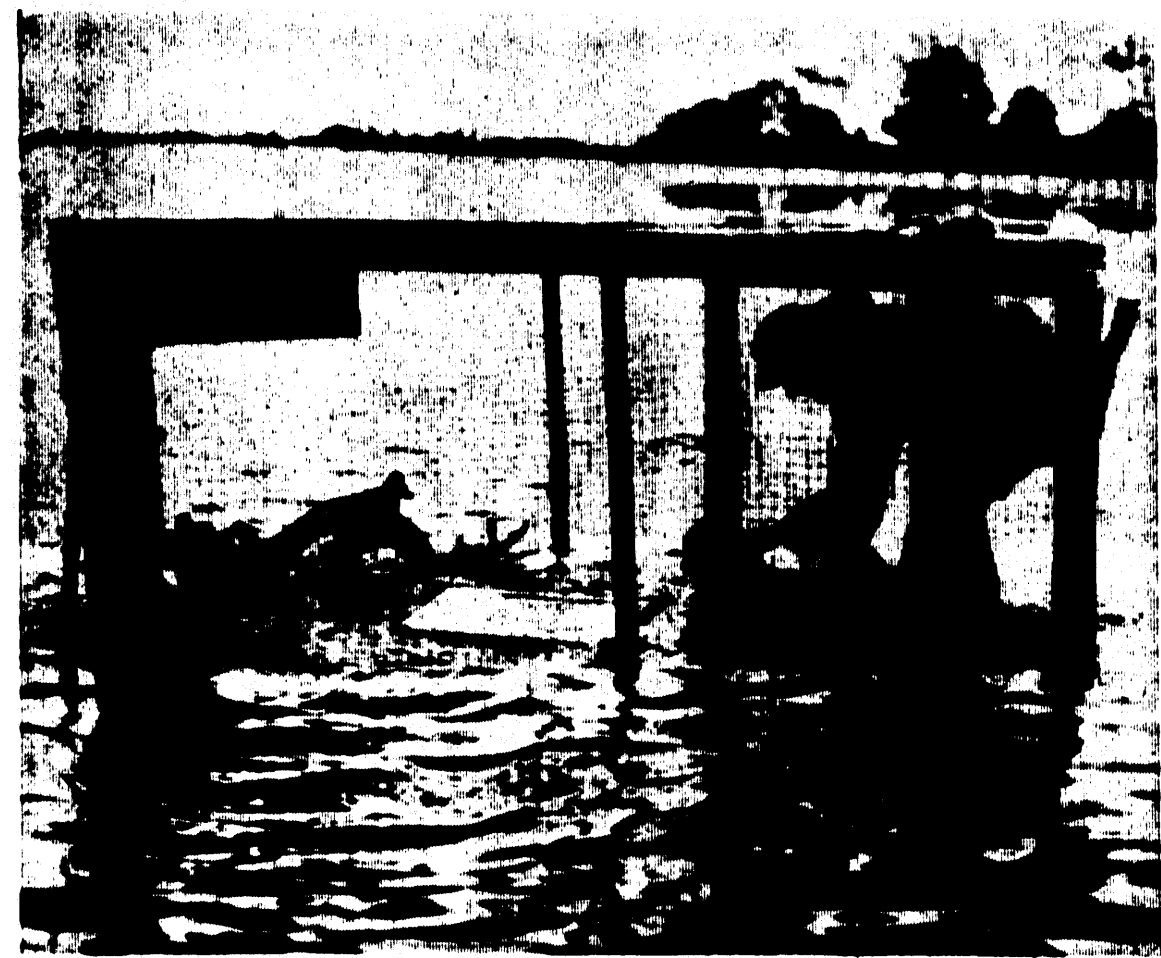

"We'll just have to intensify the campaign later on," he said.

The former governor, now opponent of Republican Sen. Robert P. Griffin, is recuperating from a kidney ailment.

Williams confirmed that Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey would campaign for him. He said, however, he did not know when they would come to Michigan.

HUNDREDS OF DUCKS among the thousands at Portage marsh on the bay shore in south Escanaba were live-trapped and then banded as part of a Conservation Department study. Corn was used to lure the birds into the big traps. (Daily Press Photos by Bernie Schultz)

ENTERING THE TRAP. Joseph Vogt, game biologist, takes out the birds for examination and banding. About 1,300 were trapped and 712 were banded. The others were "repeaters"—banded birds lured back to the trap additional times.

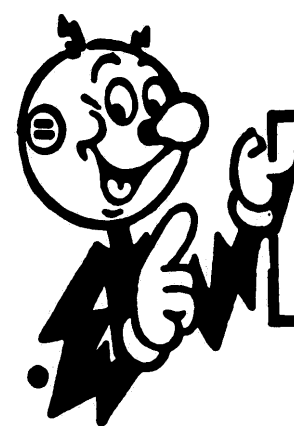

PUTTING A BAND on the leg of a woodduck, Vogt also makes other observations that are helpful to the Department in finding answers to questions necessary for effective management of waterfowl.

A BLACK MALLARD is examined by Vogt before its release. Almost one-half of the ducks banded at Portage Marsh this summer were mallards, with black ducks next in number.

HEATING COST REDUCED 9%
For Total-Electric Residential Customers

We are pleased to announce that a new reduced electric heating rate has been approved and is effective September 1, 1966.

Our space heating rate is reduced from 1.75 cents per kwh. to 1.5 cents per kwh. and represents an annual saving of approximately 9 per cent.

This reduction is made possible by the overwhelming acceptance of electric heating throughout UPPCO's eleven county service area — and is another indication of our effort, and of our Electric Dealers, to bring to our customers the best service possible at the lowest cost.

Police Question Rep. Erlandsen

Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Escanaba) breakfasted with two justices of the Michigan Supreme Court in Escanaba on Wednesday morning and then flew to Lansing to take care of state business — he's chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee — and got into trouble.

He was, he said, picked up by Lansing police and taken to the police station and questioned for more than an hour and then released without charge.

"I'm 58 years old," he said "and it is the first time I was ever in a police station. Lansing Mayor Max Murringham told me I was the victim of circumstances; that the police had set up a surveillance in an area around Dine's Supper Club where they had been having trouble with a bunch of winos.

"I had met with some Upper Peninsula people on state business after getting off the plane and had a martini with them. I set out from the Capital Park Motor Motel to walk 7 blocks to Dine's. I always walk after inactivity like a plane ride because I have an old ankle injury from my paper mill days and since my heart attack I lose circulation."

Erlandsen said that near Dine's he stumbled and police who were stationed there stopped him and took him to the station for questioning. He said he estimated he was held for an hour and a half of two hours.

Five Injured In Car Mishaps

Five persons were injured, none seriously, in traffic accidents in Escanaba since Friday noon, city police report.

Two drivers were hurt in the collision of their cars at 14th St. and 1st Ave. S. at 1:28 p.m. Friday. They are Richard L. Juetten, 2636 Lake Shore Drive, with injuries of the left leg and left hand, and Norbert L. Marenger, 327 S. 11th St., injured right knee.

"I don't know how I could be classified as intoxicated," said Erlandsen. "I obeyed every 'wait' light, even though there was no traffic. I could have called a cab and had no trouble, but I wanted the walk so I wouldn't be awake later with pains in my ankle. I went back to my hotel and went out later and had a bite to eat."

Leona Crowley Dies Today

Leona Crowley, 53, of Green Bay, died at 2:30 a.m. today at St. Vincent's Hospital in Green Bay where she had been a patient for the past four months. Mrs. Crowley was born Oct. 3, 1913.

She is survived by her husband, Timothy J. Crowley, one sister, Mrs. Helmer (Denise) Peterson of Escanaba; two brothers, Donald J. Guindon of Escanaba and Norbert J. of Detroit. Her father, Phillip Guindon of Escanaba also survives. Funeral arrangements are incomplete at this time.

One of every two of California's 18.5 million people drive a car or other vehicle.

Ore Movement Tops Last Year

The Chicago & North Western is handling more iron ore at Escanaba this year — including about 5 per cent more pelletized ore — it is reported by Lee McMillan, C&NW dock agent.

Before the shipping season ends the North Western expects to move about 6,300,000 tons of ore through its big ore loading dock here, topping last year's total by better than 300,000 tons.

In August a total of 774,832 tons of iron ore was shipped by the North Western from Escanaba, loaded into 54 boats. This compares to 56 boats and 778,280 tons for the same month a year ago.

To Sept. 1 for the season the shipments total 4,035,848 tons compared to 3,978,154 tons for the same period in 1965.

The gain in the volume of pellet ore is indicative of the gain in the processing of low grade ores into concentrated ores of higher iron content.

Last year approximately 50 per cent of the total ore moved through Escanaba by the North Western was pelletized; this year the total is expected to be 55 per cent. The remainder is natural or unbeneficiated ores.

Ruppe Pledges Fight On Tolls

SAULT STE. MARIE — Philip E. Ruppe, 11th District Republican congress nominee told a press conference at the Sault Ste. Marie Friday "One of the big problems I shall tackle in Washington is the Big Mac Bridge."

"The high toll charges have tarnished this $100 million jewel," said Ruppe. "Big Mac is not doing the job it could in attracting more tourists and new industry into Northern Michigan."

"I want to see the bridge tolls removed, but it is going to take a realistic, workable bill that is aimed specifically at Big Mac, such as the Knox-Bennett Bill."

"The solution is certainly not the bill introduced by my opponent. No bill which covers all toll bridges and tunnels in the country, and has a $4 billion price tag has a chance of passing in this or any other session of Congress."

"Another bad feature of his bill is that Big Mac would be far down the list of all the toll bridges and tunnels eligible for federal money available under the Interstate Act. It would then be a question of how many years we would have to wait for the money."

Library Offers Films On Loan

AN ETERNAL FORCE

The wind is like the power of God. It is invisible — you can neither see nor touch it. And yet it will carry a sailboat skimming across the waves with all the beauty and grace and freedom of a seagull. But whereas the wind may die and leave you drifting aimlessly and helplessly with the tide, the strength of God remains eternally steadfast. It is through the Church that man is given understanding of this Power. For by worshipping God he can acquire the spiritual insight which gives fuel to his soul and purpose for his pursuits.
